

Three dimensions of the “haystack” through which We must search the sky. The “targets” corresponds to the areas of the sky that have been searched. The dashes and boxes correspond to that part that have been searched.